

COVENANT

I commit that I will follow the Covenant as stated below and will participate in the planned activities during the retreat at Castaway Club. I also agree that if I break this Covenant, the leaders will have the right and authority to impose consequences, the most severe being sent back home by public transportation, for which myself and/or my parents would be responsible for the transportation costs.

- Hey, I believe my body is a temple and the following are prohibited/illegal: drugs, alcohol, tobacco, and gambling.
- At bedtime, there will be assigned sleeping spaces for males and females -- I will respect this space and observe lights out.
- If I cause any property damage, I will assume responsibility for my actions and will make proper restitution to the owner.
- If I bring an iPod or cell phone, I will leave it with my leader during the retreat.
- I will behave in a mature and responsible manner. I will treat other people I am with, and that I may meet, with respect.
- I understand that the adult leaders have final authority and I agree to abide by their direction.
